AS Council Refuses 7 Board Decisions

By ROBIN MAYDECK

Three times within the past month, and four times since January, the AS Council has negated or overridden the decisions of two student-faculty boards.

Last week, the Council negated the decision of the Publications Board to readjust the wage policy of The Daily Aztec ad manager, and overrode the decision of the Activities Board to deny a scholastic waiver to Sharon Taylor, senior representative.

Previously the same two boards have come under Council fire when, in January, the Council refused the Publication Board's first recommendation of Joan Hensley for The Daily Aztec editor-in-chief. Several weeks ago the Council also overrode the Activities Board by granting John Case, Junior Class president, a scholastic waiver.

The question in the case of the AS Council vs. the Publications and Activities Boards, is where does knowledge and responsibility end and ultimate jurisdiction begin?

The problem of ultimate jurisdiction is answered on page 13 of the student handbook.

Power Of Council

"Important decision-making responsibilities have been delegated to the Associated Students Council, which exercises broad powers in determining policies affecting student affairs.

"The planning of Associated Students programs . . . is conducted by 12 major student-faculty boards. The boards are responsible for general policies within their delegated authority; most boards appoint committees to assist in the implementation of specific responsibilities."

It is expected that members of the 12 boards will contribute, by knowledge or sufficient interest, the experience and expertise to regulate their areas under the guidance of the AS Council, according to Doug Townsend, AS president.

"The Council is an overseeing body which acts in the best interest of the student body," Townsend said.

"If the boards had ultimate power, as in the commission form of government, there would be no need for the Council," he added.

Council Has Jurisdiction

He explained that under the provisions of the AS Constitution, the boards are chartered by and directly responsible to the Council. Hence the Council has ultimate jurisdiction over board affairs unless otherwise stated in the board's charter.

"The Council has the authority to change the boards' charters," Townsend said.

He added that the Council abides by board decisions a great deal of the time, and that in his four years in student government he has seen no more than six reversals.

"The recent reversals are not a trend and have been made to seem much bigger than they are," Townsend said.

However, Townsend said he is concerned about the strained relations between the Council and the two boards, as are the board members.

In the case of the Publications Board, whose delegated authority is to publish The Daily Aztec and the Del Sud, the reversal of the first recommendation for editor was attributed to the lack of full representation on the board. Two voting student members failed to attend the meeting at which she was recommended.

Salary Reversal

In its most recent reversal, the Council overrode the Publications Board decision to cut the ad manager's salary from a 20 per cent commission on local ads, to $8 per issue, with lesser amounts for his staff.

Townsend explained the Council's action of approving an alternate proposal made by Jerry Varon, assistant graduate manager, which cut the manager's commission to 15 per cent, by saying that "a number of people felt that the board's decision was not in the best interests of the paper or the students."

The Activities Board has a wide range of authority and one of its duties is to examine the cases of the AS, club and commit-

Circle K Member Gets District Post

A member of SDS' Circle K Service Club was elected to the highest position in the California-Nevada-Hawaii District of Circle K International.

Don Hoss, a junior and past president of the campus chapter of Circle K, was elected Sunday at the district conference in Long Beach.

Hoss won the election with a campaign based on his willingness to promote the ideals and ideas of Circle K.

The ideals of Circle K are based on Service to God, Service to Country and Service to Mankind.

The 1968 district convention was awarded to SDS and it will be held at the El Cortez Hotel.

Campaigning for AS, AWS and AMS offices will continue through the week with signs and posters on campus. Voting will take place April 21.

Teams representing fraternities and on-campus organizations will compete in the Spring Chariot Races sponsored by IFC at 11 a.m. today in Aztec Bowl.

The Aztec Theatre Guild presents "The Sea Gull" in the Little Theatre at 8 p.m. for a four-night run beginning tomorrow.

Tomorrow night the Gregg Smith Singers will present a concert in Peterson Gym at 8.

DR. VYTAS DUKAS receives a half-gallon of potato juice from welcoming faculty members, students, and administrators.

Students, Faculty Welcome Back Language Prof.

Dr. Vytas Dukas came back to work yesterday. He returned to the sound of Russian music, dancing candle light, a newly carpeted office and the warm greetings of teachers and students he had not seen for two months.

Dukas, assistant professor of Russian, has been absent on medical leave. He returned today after recovering from the amputation of his left leg.

The hall-way outside his SS Building office was crowded with tables covered with cookies and cakes. His office sported a new rug, a leather chair, and a small day-couch with pillows and a blue bedspread.

Vitalia Gurvics, junior Russian major, said the welcome party was the idea of students and faculty members.

Mrs. Nathalia Black, lecturer in English, explained that all present had chipped in to buy the new office furnishings and gifts.

Dukas' desk was a clutter of home-baked breads, cookies, a ribbon-bedecked bottle of vodka and a small pot of marigolds from the garden of Russian dramatist Anton Chekov.

'Making Of Citizen' Ends This Week

The second and final week of the "Making of a Citizen: 1967" symposium will open today with an address on political campaigning by a Cal State Fullerton associate professor and will conclude Friday with a speech by public opinion analyst Louis Harris.

Last week's segment concerned international issues. This week will center on domestic issues.

Dr. Julian Foster, associate professor at Cal State Fullerton, will speak on "Selling Candidates: Public Relations and Elections," at 11 a.m. today in SS100.

P.R. and Elections

Speaking on the same topic at 7:30 tonight will be William E. Roberts of the firm of Spencer-Roberts, professional political campaigners. Three of the firm's clients have been Ronald Reagan, Nelson Rockefeller and Thomas Kuchel.

Harris, who heads the public opinion analysis firm bearing his name, will speak both Thursday and Friday.

Harris has conducted and written about survey research covering a spectrum of marketing, political, social and psychological dimensions. His weekly newspaper column is syndicated by the Washington Post and the Los Angeles Times.

Harris has also written two books, "Is There a Republican Majority?" and "The Negro Revolution in America."

Harris will speak on "The American Citizen - Informed or Uninformed," on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in SS100, and the following morning at 9 in the same room.

Press Freedom Discussion

Also on Thursday will be a discussion on "Defendant's Rights versus Freedom of the Press."

Participating in the discussion will be Wesley-Liebler, former Warren Commission lawyer and a law professor at UCLA; San Diego City Attorney Edward Butler, and a San Diego newsman.

Dr. Edward Dreyer, assistant professor of political science at SDS, will conduct a political science class tomorrow, which will be open to the public.

During the symposium, several student-faculty panels and receptions for speakers are scheduled.

Complete schedule of the times and locations of events is listed below:

Schedule Of Events

Today 11 a.m.: "Selling Candidates: Public Relations and Elections," SS100.

Dr. Julian Foster, associate professor, Cal State Fullerton.

7:30 p.m.: William E. Roberts, SS100.

Tomorrow 9 a.m.: Political science class in public opinion, Dr. Edward Dreyer, SS100.

10 a.m.: Informal reception for Roberts, public invited.

3 p.m.: "Political Campaigns: Dialog or Deceit," student faculty panel, West Commons.

Thursday, 11 a.m.: "Defendant's Rights versus Freedom of Press," Liebler, Butler, and newsman, SS100.

7:30 p.m.: "The American Citizen - Informed or Uninformed," Harris, SS100.

Friday, 9 a.m.: Harris appears at a political science class in public opinion, open to public, SS100.

10 a.m.: Informal reception for Harris, SS100.

Arson Suspects Released on Bail

An SDS student and another man were arrested Friday in connection with setting a fire which destroyed a student's car.

Gregory Smith, 24, and SDS student Henry Robert Espinosa, 23, of 4881 Rolando Court, were booked in city jail on charges of arson.

Both were later released on $1,100 bail each.

The burned car belonged to Danny Hayes, 20, of 6059 Adams Ave.

Both students are members of Sigma Chi fraternity.

The auto was burned as a prank while it was parked in the 2600 block of Soria drive April 2, according to Deputy Fire Marshal Richard Cole.

LUNCH TIME - Spectators feed oatmeal to Larry Anderson, Senior Class president, at the Spring Week Carnival. Other diners were Doug Townsend, AS president, and Jack Flannigan, AS vice president.

By-Law Change

Proposed bylaw change to delete numbers one and two under Section One, Article III which reads: (2) The student must have a cumulative grade point average of not less than 2.0 ("C") for all college work undertaken, including work attempted at other colleges, junior colleges, or universities; and (3) the student (except for the freshman representative on the Student Council) must have a grade point average of not less than 2.0 for all work attempted in his last semester of college attendance. Upon presentation of substantiating reasons, Part (3) of this section may be waived by a majority vote of the entire membership of the Student Council for a student already holding office. Under no circumstances, however, may it be waived for a candidate seeking office or appointment or for any student not eligible under Part (2) of this section. Surplus grade points earned in summer sessions may be used to remove any grade point deficiencies.

Proposed bylaw change to read: (2) The student must have a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 for all college work attempted at San Diego State and at other colleges, junior colleges, or universities.

Name The Prof

I was sitting in the West Commons yesterday, drinking a cup of coffee with a buddy, when he brought up the subject of the Distinguished Teaching Awards.

"Hey, look," he exclaimed, reverently clutching a copy of The Daily Aztec. "they've opened the Distinguished Teaching Awards."

"They've been open for weeks," I mumbled, choking down a mouthful of coffee.

"It says right here that they opened this week," he retorted.

"That's because when the committee closed nominations, they didn't have enough to offer what they considered a sufficient choice," I smiled.

"Yeah?" he queried.

"Yeah," I explained, "so they had to reopen them."

"Well, why didn't I know about it?" he asked.

"That's a good question," I returned. "They had a number of articles in the paper and large ads practically every day."

He looked a little sheepish.

"Well, I'm glad they're still open. I've always felt the students should have a voice in judging faculty." His eyes lit up, probably at the thought of the $500 grant which goes with the honor. "How do I vote?"

I pointed out the ballot in the paper. "You mean I have to tear it out?" He appeared shocked. "How primitive."

"Well, you don't have to... the committee will accept the nomination even if it is scribbled on a piece of scratch paper."

"Oh, good," he exclaimed. "Then what do I do with it?"

I told him to drop it in the box in the lobby of the Bookstore.

"All the way up there?" He was horrified. "I mean, I never go to that end of the campus!"

I grabbed him by the shoulder. "Come on, there's one in the Library, too."

"Just a minute," he whimpered, grabbing up a napkin and taking out his pen. "Now, let's see, does he spell that with an 'F' or a 'ph'?"

Missing Graduates

SENIORS, KEEP IN TOUCH

Seniors, don't get lost!

Each year, however, we lose the addresses of hundreds of graduates when they move. The College affiliation should not end upon graduation.

Signs with the "don't get lost" theme have been appearing all over campus. What do they mean? Simply, join the San Diego State Alumni Association.

Why? What does membership mean? Alumni membership means benefits such as:

1. Discounts to San Diego State athletic events at both the new stadium and the college.
2. Discounts to popular and cultural events — Harry Belafonte, Sammy Davis Jr., plus symphonies and concerts.
3. Borrowing privileges to S.D.S.C. library.
4. Subscriptions to both Alumni News and El Companario magazine.
5. Free admission to S.D.S. film series.

Besides these benefits members are able to keep in touch with their college. Also your membership does help San Diego State acquire the many items that are not covered in the State budget.

Memberships are available today and Wednesday in the Aztec Shops at the reduced rate of $2.50 for the next year.

Seniors, don't get lost.

Good Writing

Dear Editor,

I would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank Mr. Cliff McKenzie for his marvelous contribution to the editorial section of the Daily Aztec of April 7. I'm certain we all recall the brilliant, biting satire of Mr. McKenzie's A Big Break for Mr. Sloth, which dealt with the current SDS problem of grade waivers.

I was fascinated by Mr. McKenzie's editorial, not only for its savage social commentary, but also due to the unique and absorbing manner in which it was presented. I found myself gripped by all the courtroom drama of the Nuremberg Trials, drawn into the case, so to speak, and I could not help but weigh judgment myself. Wonderful!

Mr. McKenzie, Wonderful!!

I sincerely hope to see more of your writing in future publications, Mr. McKenzie. I am sure you deserve all the rewards which you shall undoubtedly reap! Again, congratulations, and thank you for some truly intellectual entertainment.

Oh, I nearly forgot! That hilarious, surprise-twist ending... "Thanks again, brother!" SU-PERB, MR. MCKENZIE!!

Respectfully,
Rick Jackson

Dear Editor:

Congratulations to Mr. Fisher for his timely and illuminating article on rock and roll song lyrics that are influenced by Sex and Narcotics.

The morals of "Young America," always endangered by free thinking, are doubly threatened by the type of music that they listen to nowadays, spewing forth filth like sex, love, and escape from this dingy world of reality.

It's about time that someone with guts and a clear head, like Mr. Fisher, stuck his nose into all this trash and started rooting around and bringing it out into the open where we can all see it, read it and despise it. Thank you Mr. Fisher.

Rudeness

Editor, The Daily Aztec:

Is it really necessary for photographers to interrupt speeches delivered on this campus by standing directly in front of the speaker while he is talking?

I have been to several addresses, both during the current "Making of a Citizen: 1967" convocation and prior occasions and it seems to me that these photographers are extremely rude to our guests, not to mention what their standing directly in front of a speaker and flashing in their faces does to his speech.

More often than not, these same photographers are wandering around the front of the room, getting different angle shots of the speaker, thus impairing the audience's attention on what is being said and the speaker's concentration on trying to put his point over.

May I suggest that these photographers ask speakers to remain for several minutes after their address so that pictures may be taken? I feel certain that not only will they not object, but they will be quite relieved and grateful.

Ten Students to Spend Summer Working in Jail

By Nancy Tubbs

Spending two weeks in jail may be one of the toughest ways for a person to get to know himself but 10 SDS students will earn two units of credit doing just that this summer.

Five men and five women who are "interested in people and think that they would enjoy working with people" will be chosen to spend summer intersession working at Tehachapi, the California men's correctional institution, said Melvin Murphy, assistant professor of social work.

"Anyone may apply for the program," Murphy said yesterday. "However, we would prefer junior students in the liberal arts program who are planning to go into fields like psychology, social work, education or philosophy."

Students may pick up applications for the program in BA320, Murphy said.

The course of study will run from Sunday, June 11, to Friday, June 23, and will cost each student $19.50 per unit, plus $25 for transportation and food.

Students to Evaluate

Murphy, who will advise the group, said that the six-year-old program was developed "to give students a chance to take a look at themselves and to evaluate their interests and capabilities in working with people."

Students will work with the inmates in group counseling and other activities as well as participating in staff meetings.

They will be asked to submit one report to the parole board, and to keep a daily log of their experiences and impressions. From that log they will be required to write a paper due after Christmas.

"In the past the most common topic for these papers has been an evaluation of the Tehachapi counseling program. One student wrote about the management of the food services and its effect on the inmate population," Murphy said.

Students Safe

Murphy said that there is no need to worry about the safety of the students while they are at the institution.

"With 500 guards no one could be safer. The inmates love the program if only because it brings two weeks of diversion into their lives."

Finance Professor Appointed Member Of U.S. Committee

A former chairman of the Business Law and Finance Department has been appointed to an advisory committee of the American Institute of Banking.

Dr. Don Bridenstine, professor of finance, will consult on planning and evaluation standards of the educational and related programs of the national office of the Institute.

The newly created National Educational Advisory Committee will advise the Institute's executive council on such matters as educational policies, practices and procedures of teaching aids, curriculum planning, teacher selection and training, and student testing and grading.

Mrs. Evelyn Preston, speaking for the Institute, said that the committee is an outgrowth of the Institute's national appraisal conference last year. The Institute is the educational arm of The American Bankers Association, she said.

Eight Scholarships Offered For Students in Accounting

Several awards and scholarships are available to accounting majors, Kenneth Wade, assistant professor of accounting, said.

Wade, chairman of the Awards Committee of the accounting department, said that the international public accounting firm of Haskins and Sells will award $500 to a junior.

The California Society of Accountants, San Diego chapter, will award two scholarships of $100 each. The Society of Governmental Accountants will give an award of $100, as will the Women's Auxiliary of the California Society of Certified Public Accountants, San Diego chapter.

The honorary accounting fraternity, Beta Alpha Psi, Beta Eta chapter, will award a junior $100, and General Dynamics will offer $75 to a junior with a 3.0 GPA or better.

For seniors, Wade said that the Certified Public Accountants are offering a Practice Management Handbook for a student with an interest in public accounting.

H. & R. Block, a tax consulting firm, will award $100 to a senior interested in tax accounting. The Ross Kingsbury Memorial award of from $50 to $100 is available to a senior or graduate student who expects to teach.

Eight SDS Profs Instruct Aboard Ship, USS Hornet

Eight SDS professors have recently begun a series of classes for officers and men on the USS Hornet. They are offering courses in algebra, English, computer programming, physics, history and psychology.

SDS professors have previously taught classes on the USS Constellation. Classes are being held on the destroyer tender Piedmont, guided missile cruisers Canberra and Galveston, and the guided missile frigate Mahan.

Professors meet with the students while the vessel is in the home port. Dr. Paul Steward, professor of physical science and coordinator of the program, said.

While at sea, the crewmen listen to taped lectures and view films prepared by the professor. The students attend regular classes under the supervision of an officer.

Professors Fly

The students must write papers which are mailed to the professors. The professors grade them and mail them back. When the course is nearly completed the professor is flown to the ship to give final lessons and a final examination.

"The goal of the program is to give the crewmen a chance to complete as many lower division classes as possible," Steward said.

One sailor has completed 24 units of credit.

30 Percent Finish

"The program has been successful and will continue to expand," he said.

Only about 30 per cent of those who begin classes finish.

"However, this is very good considering the difficult conditions under which the men must study. They have to work in small rooms, attend to their jobs on the ship and study," Steward said.

Art Instructor Wins Honorable Mention

Two members of the SDS Art Department faculty exhibited their work in the 17th Annual Tucson Festival Exhibition.

Darryl Groover, art lecturer won an honorable mention for his oil painting, "Family Portrait." Jean Swiggett, chairman of the Art Department, exhibited his oil painting, "Victorian Interior."

The exhibit featured art work from seven Southwestern states.

AS Council Refuses 7 Board Decisions

tee officers who do not have the required 2.0 GPA while in office.

The board must decide whether the officer warrants a recommendation to waive the scholastic requirement. In both instances of Case and Miss Taylor, the board could not find sufficient reason.

The Council often overrules waiver denials.

The board presented a statement of policy to the Council March 15 in which it reaffirmed its intention to deny waivers for scholarship.

The statement stressed that "... both the Activities Board and the Associated Students Council should reaffirm to the campus as a whole the importance of good scholarship.

"We are amiss in this responsibility if we continue to grant ourselves, and others, waivers for deficient grades."

Tomorrow the Council will take up two proposals concerning the GPA requirement.

One, as proposed by the Council, would lift the requirement, demanding students have a cumulative 2.0 GPA at the time they seek or are appointed to office.

The other proposal, to be presented by the Activities Board, would raise the GPA requirement to a 2.3.

Dr. Eric Odendahl, adviser of The Daily Aztec and a member of the Publications Board, said the decision of board members, who know how to handle publications, is more valid than those of the Council.

Odendahl said he was in favor of increasing the number of students on the boards.

Faculty 'Enemies'

"There seems to be an idea on the part of the Council that the faculty members on all boards are enemies," Odendahl said. "But on the Publications Board, the faculty members are those most interested in seeing that things work smoothly."

"Some of this stems from the question of who has the authority — the students or the faculty. Perhaps it is normal for the Council to like to see the faculty squirm."

Mechanical Engineers to Vie In Local Project Competition

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) Conference preliminary contest will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow in SE423.

Two students will be selected from the contest to advance to the regional finals at Cal State at Long Beach on April 28-29. Winners at Long Beach will compete in the national finals in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Any undergraduate member of the ASME is eligible to enter his project in the contest.

Projects must be of a single authorship and relate to some area of the broad field of engineering.

Each contestant will have a maximum of 15 minutes in which to present his project. Five minutes after discussion will follow the presentation.

Judging will be based on content, organization, delivery, effectiveness, and performance in the discussion period.

The prizes for the local contest will be plaques. Prizes at Long Beach will range from $100 for first place to $15 for fifth place.

The national prize in Pittsburgh will be $250. All expenses to Long Beach will be paid by the ASME.

RECORD REVIEWS

Blues-Rock Beat Goes On

By JACKIE HARPER
THE GRATEFUL DEAD
 Warner Bros. W1689
 This album is different from what you would expect from looking at the psychedelic record jacket. There are no electronic or weird noises (except for the conventional electric guitars) and no psychedelic lyrics. Rather, the group is similar in many ways to the blues-oriented Animals and Rolling Stones. The Grateful Dead consists of Jerry Garcia, lead guitar; Bob Weir, rhythm guitar; Phil Lesh, bass; Bill Sommers, drums, and Ron "Pig Pen" McKernan, organ and harmonica. The lyrics of the songs have been accurately described by Lesh and Garcia, who do most of the writing, as "nonsensical and banal."

THE GRATEFUL DEAD

ing tempo is returned to.

"Cream Puff War" will probably become a hit. It is catchy, and the rhythm changes from 4/4 to 3/4 and to 1 several times, similar to the Beatles' "We Can Work It Out" time changes.

Besides the instrumental work being better than average, especially the organ, there is really nothing special about this album. The Grateful Dead are supposed to be one of the best groups in the San Francisco area.

According to several reviewers and hippies, they are supposed to be fantastic in person. To let the San Francisco sound go unspoiled, Warner Bros. gave the Grateful Dead a unique deal, allowing them complete control over material and production. It isn't that great. MIRIAM MAKEBA IN CONCERT Reprise R-6253

The African songstress uses her unique vocal abilities on songs from Africa, Brazil and America on this album, which was recorded live at New York's new Philharmonic Hall at Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. Accompanied by guitar, bass and percussion, Miss Makeba sings the Brazilian "Mas Que Nada" and "Reza," her amazing African "Click Song," and the poignant American "Mommy," among others. FEELIN' GROOVY — Harper's Bizarre Warner Bros. W1693

These five young men present ten songs, all in the light, happy style of their popular "59th Street Bridge Song" (Feelin' Groovy).

The group is made up of Dickie Scoppellone and Ted Templemen, vocals; Eddie James, lead guitar; Dick Yount, bass, and John Petersen, drums.

The songs are plainly influenced by Paul Simon (of Simon and Garfunkel), who wrote "Bridge Song."

The use of oboes, flutes and bassoons helps to give their songs their light, airy sound. The only trouble is, everything sounds the same. The tunes are all happy, with titles like "Happy Land," "Happy Talk," "Come to the Sunshine" and "Peter and the Wolf."

"Debutante's Ball" is different in that it sounds like music from an old music box. It's a nice record. Insipid, but nice.

Classic and contemporary choral arrangements will be sung by the Gregg Smith Singers at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Peterson Gym.

The group, which is making its third tour of the United States, will perform two sacred works by Guillaume Dufay and Johann Schein, Renaissance composers. They will also perform two early American Billings, a musical melodrama by Stravinsky, German folk songs by Schoenberg and songs by Copland.

Pieces using the poetry of Ben Johnson, T. S. Eliot, James Stephens and Vachel Lindsey will also be presented by the group. Sponsored by the Associated Students, the concert will be free.

Davis Tickets Selling Fast

Time is running out for purchasing tickets to the Sammy Davis Jr. concert Sunday in Peterson Gym.

Gary Solbue, activities advisor, said over half of the 5,000 tickets had been sold as of last Monday. He said the performance would probably be sold out soon and that tickets should be purchased as soon as possible.

Tickets are currently on sale in the Aztec Shops at $2 for students with an AS Card, $3 for faculty and staff, and $4 for the general public.

Language Tests Set For May 2

Foreign language reading examinations are scheduled for Tuesday, May 2, it has been announced from the three foreign language departments.

Reading examinations in Spanish, German, Russian, French and Italian will be given between 3 and 4:30 p.m. in LS300.

All students who wish to take the examination must sign up no later than Friday, April 21, with the secretaries in AS104A.

to AS card holders. Admission for SDS faculty, alumni and students from other schools will be 75 cents. General admission will be $1.50.

Tryouts Set For Twirlers

Tryouts for ten majorette and flag twirler positions with the Marching Aztecs will be held May 6.

There are openings for five flag twirlers and five majorettes for the fall football season, according to Norman Rost, band director.

The tryouts will be held at 8 a.m. Saturday, May 6, at the lawn area west of the Music Building.

All current women students, graduating high school seniors and transfer students planning to enroll for the fall semester are eligible, Rost said.

Rost said that two units of GE credit are available for the women selected. Majorettes and flag twirlers may earn a maximum of six units of credit toward their GE requirements.

Contestants should wear rehearsal clothes to the tryouts and should be ready to compete by 10 a.m., he said.

Stars to Be Viewed At Astronomy Night

A planetarium demonstration and a look through a telescope at stars and planets will be offered at this week's Astronomy Guest Night.

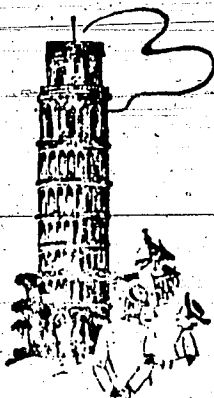

Chester J. Silvernail, associate professor of astronomy, will present the program beginning at 7:30 p.m. Friday in PS208.

Admission will be free, but those interested must obtain tickets in advance in PS212.

Golfers Take Third In LA State Tournament

By Tom Blair

SDS' golf team tied for third place in the Los Angeles State College Invitational Tournament over the weekend and returned to face four dual matches at home.

After dawning Cal State Los Angeles on their course April 3 by a slim margin of 30-24, the Aztecs tied with the same team Saturday to finish behind first place winner, the University of Southern California.

Paced by Mike Riley and Dennis Turk, who each had a 156 total for 36 holes, the Aztecs compiled a six-man team total of 959 to USC's 935 and San Jose's 956.

Paced by Mike Riley and Dennis Turk, who each had a 156 total for 36 holes, the Aztecs compiled a six-man team total of 959 to USC's 935 and San Jose's 956.

Coach Frank Scott described the El Niguel Country Club course as a "backbreaker." The long tough course with hard greens gave first place USC a 78 stroke total for 18 holes to win the tournament. The Aztecs averaged 79½ strokes for 18 holes.

Competing in the Invitational Tournament for SDS were Riley, Turk, Rick Tunstall, Rich Ward, Joe Aiken and Ray Currasco. USC's Bill Feil was top individual with a 150 for the 36 holes. Riley's and Turk's 156 were good for a tie for 10th.

The Aztec's next dual match is scheduled for Thursday when they meet the Naval Training Center on the Aztec's home course. The Aztecs defeated them earlier this season on the Training Center course.

Following the encore match with the Naval Training Center the Aztecs meet Cal State Long Beach on Friday, Fresno on Saturday and UCLA on Monday.

Scott expects to win all matches since the teams will meet on SDS' home course at Carlton Oaks Country Club.

The Aztec's next tournament action will take place April 21 and 22 in the Sun Devil Golf Tournament at Tempe, Ariz.

The Sun Devil Tournament is sponsored by Arizona State University and will include teams from Brigham Young University, University of Houston, Fresno State and others.

Scott will pick his six-man team from performance in this week's scheduled dual matches.

Turk, who shot a 156 for 36 holes in the Los Angeles State College Invitational, was named Aztec Star of the week in golf by the athletic department.

Aztec Scrimmage Sets Pace For Grid Red-Black Game

By Mike McNew

Leslie "Speedie" Duncan, star defensive back for the San Diego Chargers, dropped by Aztec Bowl Friday night with a spy.

The self-admitted spy was Shannon D. Little, director of player personnel at Tennessee State, and he had a natural interest in what he saw.

Next September the Aztecs will face Little's second-ranked Tennessee team here in the first game of the football year for both teams.

The Aztecs had a scrimmage roughly equivalent to three full games in length in preparation for Friday's Red-Black game and what Little saw, along with about 60 other hard-core fans who braved the cold, was impressive.

Edwards Rips

The least-subtle intimidator of possible enemy scouts in the audience was big Lloyd Edwards, who was working out of the offensive backfield.

Edwards, at 6-4 and 247 pounds, is, in the words of pro Duncan, "hard to bring down."

He understated it.

When he didn't break through for what would have been touchdowns, it usually took at least three men to drag the big man to earth.

There is another thing about Edwards that will bother Aztec foes next year, aside from his size and power.

They'll have to catch him first and, since he tours the 100 in around 9.8 seconds, the players who do are going to be sorry they were blessed with speed.

There will be a lot of opposing defensive secondary men who will, in their attempts to bring Edwards down, feel like a little dog that finally catches the car it's chasing.

They won't know quite what to do with what they caught.

It's not too early to start a fund to help pay for injuries to hapless opposing defenses.

"I sure wouldn't want to have to stop him," Duncan said.

What also hurt any opposing coaches in the stands was the fact that Edwards is only part of what they'll have to cope with next year.

Moses, Scouts Ready

Returning flanker Haven Moses already has pro scouts drooling at the prospect of thrusting a contract into his hands.

"He played his normal game," Mike Hickey, potential tight end on the sidelines with an injured knee, said, "that is, if 'normal' means great."

Moses, open most of the night despite occasional double-coverage, caught everything thrown his way including several passes that were nowhere near him.

Little said he was out here visiting junior colleges in an effort to recruit ballplayers for his team.

In an after-scrimmage conversation with Coryell he played the part of a coach forced to rely on a girls' school for players.

"We haven't got anybody," he said, "Why, I've been looking all over for players and can't find anybody."

"You got them all, Coach. What are you going to do with them all," Little continued.

"What about that 280-pound tackle you have that the pro think will go in the first round next year?" Coryell countered.

"Why I don't even know who you mean, we don't have anybody that big," Little disclaimed.

When Coryell laughed Little smiled and said, "We DO have big boy, I guess, but he's ju 'coming along' is all. He can't it all alone."

"All we're looking forward is the TRIP out," Little concluded, "We just don't have anybody for next year."

He sounded incongruous for coach whose teams have won their last 24 straight contests, including a trouncing of power Grambling.

Aztec Standouts

Showing up well at the scrimmage were:

Cliff Hancock, the strong-side defensive end, who played a good game Friday.

Crew Second In Regatta

SDS' varsity crew rowed across the 2,000 meter Mission Bay course Saturday in the Aztecs best time of the season. The SDS time of 6:19 was three seconds behind the winning (6:16) University of California shell. It was the Golden Bears best time to date. The northern California crew won three of four races. The Aztec shell was manned by Ron Trenton, Lee Skaalen, Russ Lippert, John Londelius, Jim McMullin, Jim Crouch, Terry Heavens, Gebur, andcoxswain Dave Palmer. The SDS crew finished ahead of third place University of Southern California by eight full seconds. Two weeks ago at Wilmington, California, near Long Beach, USC swept three of four races from the Aztecs in a dual regatta. SDS won the varsity event by three seconds. SDS caught the Aztec shell at the 1,500 meter mark and pulled ahead a quarter of a boat length at the finish line. SDS lightweight crew, 6:48; topped USC (6:58). Cal won the frosh regatta with a time of 6:40 for the 2,000 meters, and SDS was second, 7: and third USC, 6:50. Second place in the Junior Varsity heat of the regatta was determined in the last ten feet. The Trojans time of 6:31, narrowly beat the Aztecs, 6:34 in the third of four races. Cal won with a fine 6:19 clocking.

good at cornerback despite a recent case of pneumonia.

Returning center, Cliff Hansen, whose 270 pounds helps fill the middle of the offensive line.

Versatile Jim Crossley who can play anything from fullback to defensive halfback.

Clark Wright at offensive guard. Stanford wanted Wright.

Punter John Beck, who can fill in at defensive back.

Incoming linebacker Mike Mayer got in some good hits.

Rich Gauthier, who at 290 pounds, could scare foes at his interior defensive line spot.

Nate Wright, a speedy defensive back who worked at tailback Friday and might do so next year.

Mike Pompa a 215-pound defensive tackle from Chaffey JC.

Ray "Squeaky" Stubblefield returning to defensive back.

Jim Haight holding down the other backer spot.

Charlie Hemphill, a 230-pound middle guard back from last year. Defensive tackle Dennis Lightner from Fullerton JC.

Thom Williams who will show his talents as quarterback this Friday.

Hurt on the sidelines were Hickey, Teddy Washington, Larry Schakel, Fred Dryer, and Taft Abras.

Dryer, at 6-6 and 225 pounds, is a fine prospect at the defensive tackle spot.

Rain Halts Diamond Action; Aztecs Host Cal Western

The Aztec baseball team, rained out in five out of its last seven starts, will face Cal Western today at 2:30 p.m. on Smith Field.

Coach Lyle Olsen's nine stands 1-1 in league competition after opening against Fresno last weekend.

His charges won the second game of their Saturday double-header, 3-0, after dropping the first game, 6-1.

Bob Cluck's four-hitter coupled with Paul Zetts' home run with no one on, in the second inning, helped give the Aztecs the split.

Zetts also scored another run in the win after Seiran Stepanian walked, Rick Eveleth moved Stepanian to second, Zetts walked and then took part in a double steal which scored Stepanian. Zetts was then singled home by Cluck.

The Aztecs were rained out Friday in what was to be the first of three games with Fresno.

"We needed that win," Olsen said. "The guys worked real hard and Cluck did a fine job. He was in control the whole time."

Tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. the Aztecs play a make-up game with MCRD on Smith Field. The teams' previous game was washed out by rain last Tuesday.

SDS now has an 8-5-1 season record.

Chariot Races Today At 11

Sigma Chi will defend its chariot race championship at the semi-annual chariot races at 11 a.m. today in Aztec Bowl.

The races will be run in four heats with the four winners running in a final heat.

Thirteen women have been nominated for chariot queen. The queen will be sponsored by the winning team.

Pete Ezell, IFC scholarship chairman, will give out IFC scholarship trophies at halftime.

Aztec Fan

The Aztecs have an enthusiastic booster in Paris.

The booster, Charles W. Lamden, dean of the school of business administration, is on an assignment in Paris as partner in charge of European Operations for an international accounting firm.

Lamden, an Aztec fan, writes the business office once a month and requests information regarding the team.

"His letters almost invariably begin with the question - How are the Aztecs doing? How is the staff?" a secretary in the business administration department said.

Rick Uddenberg was elected Area 9 director of the CYRCF, which makes him responsible for nine college Young Republican clubs in San Diego and Imperial counties.

Both were elected at the annual CYRCF convention in Los Angeles. McKinney was elected by a two-to-one margin by the 500 delegates representing 70 college YR clubs.

Uddenberg was elected unanimously.

McKinney, senior, is captain of the speech and debate team.

'March' Tickets Refunded, Lacks Subsidization Funds

The SDS Chapter of the Committee to End the War in Vietnam will refund money for those who purchased tickets to the March on San Francisco on April 14.

The money will be refunded because the group lacks funds to subsidize the cost of the trip, Peter Dubow, chairman of the group, said. Those who purchased tickets may have their money refunded or allocate it towards the purchase of bus tickets for $13.25.

Tickets may be purchased or funds returned either at the groups' table in the East Commons or at a rally at 5:30 to 8 p.m. Friday in the Organ Pavilion in Balboa Park.

Speakers at the rally will include Simon Casady, former president of the California Democratic Committee, Dr. Charles Guzzetta, associate professor of social work, Dr. Nicos Mouratides, associate professor of sociology, and Dr. Kingsley Widmer, associate professor of English.

The busses to San Francisco will leave the Pavilion at 8 p.m.

Robert Vaughn, star of "Man From U.N.C.L.E.," will address the marchers at an afternoon rally.

About 100 students from SDS will attend the demonstration, a Dubow said.

The march is being organized by Spring Mobilization to End the War in Vietnam Committee, which is a national student organization in protest of American involvement in Southeast Asia, Dubow said.

Deficiency Slips Due

Deficiency notices will be mailed to students this week, Pat Danielson, supervising clerk at the Registrar's Office, said.

The deadline for changing or dropping classes has been extended one week. Last day to drop classes is Friday, April 21.

The extension of this deadline was granted to allow students enough time to drop or change classes after receiving deficiency notices, Mrs. Danielson said.

What to Expect From Interviews Is Subject of Talk

What to expect from a job interview will be the subject of a talk by an assistant director of placement at 11 a.m. Today, in CG302.

Jerry Joyce of the Placement Office, will address a meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE). The meeting will be open to all students.

Joyce said that there will be a question-and-answer period after the speech.

"Many students are unaware of what the Placement Office is and what it does," Joyce said.

"I'll try to fill in students on the services offered by the office such as vocational information and counseling."

"This meeting will be of interest to all students, not just engineering majors," Bob Amptman, vice-president of ASCE, said.

Workshop Set To Study JC Grad Opportunities

A workshop in the study of employment opportunities for junior college graduates will be held this summer at SDS, Dr. Robert Smith Jr., associate professor of education and coordinator of junior college programs, said.

"The primary objective of the workshop will be to familiarize counselors with occupations open to students who have recently attended or been graduated from junior colleges," Smith said.

Smith said participants will be chosen from junior colleges in the state.

Counselors will spend 13 days on the job with selected business or industrial firms in greater Southern California so they can better understand the entry problems of the young adult, he said.

One week will be spent in the classroom at which time consultants and representatives from employing agencies will address the counselors, Smith said.

The workshop will be held from July 5 to July 29.

Applicants must be recent experienced counselors or coordinators of placement or work study programs at the junior college level, Smith said.

Deadline for applications May 15 but Smith urges those interested to apply early since the size of the class will be limited.

Success is the sole earthly judgment of right and wrong.
